

THE SEVEN CONTINENTS

Of the World

In our world there are large areas of land surrounded by sea.

These large areas of land are broken up into seven continents.

These continents are made up of lots of countries, for example, Brazil is a country that is in the continent of South America.

Look at the map of the World below and see if you can name all seven continents.

For bonus points, write down a fact or something interesting about each continent.

